

A five-day voyage to explore the legacy of Setouchi's most powerful clans

Departing October 14, 2026 (4 nights 5 days)

guntû was specifically designed for the year-round calm of the Seto Inland Sea, where it mostly sails in waters that are less affected by waves and wind. Here the Mori clan, once minor lords in Aki Province, rose to become rulers of a sprawling domain and the dominant power in the Chugoku region. On this voyage, guests will visit sites connected to the Mori clan together with an expert scholar of the region's history and the Mori clan's role during Japan's 16th century civil wars.

The route shares episodes from this chapter of Setouchi history that are still remembered today, through walks on Miyajima, where brilliant tactics outwitted a much larger army; at Hofu, where the Mori clan secured its domain; and on Futagamijima, a base of the Mori-allied Futagami clan.
