

A four-day voyage to experience traditional Setouchi culture and craftsmanship

Eastward route (3 nights 4 days) : anchor offshore at Tamano, Hinase and Takuma Bay

Takamatsu Bonsai

Two days during this journey are spent experiencing Setouchi's traditional culture and craftsmanship. After departure from Bella Vista Marina, guntû passes by the glowing lights of the Mizushima industrial complex before anchoring off the shore of Tamano, Okayama Prefecture. The next day includes an experience of traditional arts such as bonsai or lacquerware in Takamatsu, and the third day explores an Osafune swordsmith and Sabukaze-suekii pottery in Okayama Prefecture. Soak in the view of the sunset and the Great Seto Bridge before heading to Tomonoura to spend a final night aboard guntû.

Takamatsu became a center of Bonsai culture in the late Edo Period, thanks to its suitable climate, and remains the largest producer of black pine bonsai in the country. Setouchi, Okayama Prefecture is home to the remains of old kilns used to create Sue pottery between the 6th and 10th centuries. In particular, the Sue pottery produced at the Sabukaze remains is considered to be a precursor to modern-day Bizen pottery.
